

RAILROAD.—Bishop Woods, of Clover Valley, who recently returned from a trip to Provo, Utah, was in town Saturday, and states that while at Provo he met Bishop Sharp, who told him that the Denver & Rio Grande Company intended to change their gauge from the narrow to the standard gauge, and that it was the intention of the company to build their line of road down through Desert Station and run into Dry Valley. After reaching Dry Valley, it was not positively known whether the road would run down by Panaca, thence on through Bennett Springs pass, on to California, or else up the valley by Pioche, crossing the range of mountains through the Bristol Gap. He thought that as the grade through the Bristol Gap was the best, that it would be likely to take that route. Also that if the winter was a mild one, the company would commence work immediately; but if not, then work would be commenced as early in the spring as possible. As this comes direct from old Bishop Sharp, one of the most prominent men in Utah Territory, we place much confidence in the statement, and hope the Denver & Rio Grande will hurry up and extend their line in this direction.

GRAND SUNSETS.—For the last week our citizens have been treated to gorgeous sunsets of surpassing beauty. Shortly after sunset, say from after six o'clock, the heavens to the westward are brilliantly illuminated by flaming red, occasioned by the setting of the sun, we suppose. But this grand illumination was not confined to the evening alone, for early in the mornings, just before the sun rose, and while it was yet quite dark, the same beautiful spectacle could be seen in the eastern heavens, and right in the midst of this bright scarlet flame, the new moon is sinking to rest, and is of a bright golden yellow. The sight is indeed grand and is well worth the trouble of arising early in the morning and looking at. You who are too lazy to arise early of mornings to behold this grand heavenly scene, place your beds so you can see it without getting up, as we have done.

Geo. W. Grayson arrived in Bristol Saturday afternoon and immediately went over to Royal City. While in this vicinity he visited all the property owned by the Day Company, and appeared to be well satisfied with what he saw, particularly the Mendha mine at Highland, which he said work should have never been stopped on, and also that the Day mine at Royal City had a good showing. That those who had formerly been in charge of the mine had drifted in every direction but the right one to find ore. He left Pioche Wednesday morning, by private conveyance, for the terminus at Milford, Utah.

The Attorney-General writes to County School Superintendent of Public Schools, G. R. Alexander, that an alien, who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the country, and has taken out his first papers, in his opinion, is entitled to his salary when he fills the position of a teacher of a public school. This settles the question which has been troubling Pioche for a few weeks, and the teacher of the Grammar School will get his salary, which he certainly earns.

DAY COMPANY.—Work in the mines of this company is being steadily pushed ahead. Ore is extracted and shipped to the furnace daily. The mines are at present working a larger force of men than they have for months. The furnace is being placed in the best of order at Bristol. The indications are that it will make a steady run of several months when it starts, which will be about the first of the year.

The Christy Company, of Silver Reef, intends closing down their mines for the winter. It was the intention of the company to have closed down to-day, and in accordance therewith we suppose all work in the company's mines and at the mill ceased and employees discharged. This will make it very dull at the Reef this winter, as the Stormont is the only company now operating there.

Now is your chance to buy coal oil cheap. J. Eisenmann & Co. have received several carloads of coal oil, offers it at the following prices: 175 test, $4 per case; 150 test, Water White, $4.50 per case; Brastow's Red Brand, the best oil obtainable, at $5 per case. What more can you ask, in the shape of low prices for the best of coal oil?

The County Auditor gives notice that the delinquent tax list for the year ending December 31, 1883, has been placed in the hands of the District Attorney, and unless said taxes are paid to the Treasurer twenty days from to-day, suit will be commenced by the District Attorney for the collection of the same.

NOT DEAD.—We published an item last week of the rumor that Rock Droulette had died, but we learn from the Salt Lake Tribune that Droulette, who arrived in Helena, Montana, on Nov. 13, while walking from the depot to the hotel, was run over by a bus and severely injured.

REDEMPTION FUND.—County Treasurer Elam gives notice that there is in the Redemption Fund the sum of $1,859.42. Bids for the same will be received at his office up to the 16th inst.

BULLIONVILLE AND PANACA DOGS

New Wall-paper, all varieties, at FOUJADE'S.

Zacho & Co. will commence concentrating the coming week.

There is but one saloon and one restaurant running in Bullionville.

Bullionville, and the few people now residing there, are very forlorn appearing.

Bullionville recently lost one of her most important citizens. The Swan took flight.

McMahon is still under the weather, suffering from loneliness and general debility.

Archy Yocham and Nick Miller will work on claims in Chief District this winter.

Justice Kelly arrived from Salt Lake last evening. He says he prefers Nevada to Utah.

Billy the Rustler has been very unwell the past week. They say he has worked himself down.

The weather here is very mild and pleasant during the days. We could not wish for better.

Bro. Gentry left yesterday with the last car-load of bullion from the furnace dump in Bullionville.

Bros. Hearty, Carden and Pippin, and families, intend leaving for Arizona and New Mexico next week.

At the rate some of our Panacas are hauling carrots to Pioche it is natural for us to suppose that the ungody, like the cattle, eat much carrots.

Bro. Gentry's family left for their old home in Utah. Gentry says he is afraid if they remain in Bullionville any longer they will be mighty apt to leave Mormonism.

Since the close of the smelter at Bullionville, our young men behave themselves remarkably well and attend church. They have no bad examples to follow now as then.

Some thieving scoundrel at Bullionville, the other day, broke open Nick Miller's trunk, that had been left there in charge of a party, and robbed Mr. Miller of his wardrobe.

The reflections of sunsets on the clouds in evenings, after dark, are exceedingly enchanting. The red clouds are more brilliant than the hair of that red-headed girl old Dad Keele promised you.

Our little village is jogging quietly along. Nothing has occurred to mar the happiness of our village people for many a day. Us young folks enjoy ourselves by having evening gatherings at which we indulge in all kinds of indoor games.

The four Langford boys left for Utah this week, where they have large farms, purchased out of their earnings working for the B. S. Co. The Church ordered them to leave, so that the influence of the ungody should be no longer upon them.

Bros. Nelson and Wedge have, during the past week, been pulling down and hauling houses from Bullionville over to Panaca. Bro. Nelson of Panaca had twenty span of horses attached to one house, which he was hauling to his residence.

Down at Yocham's ranch the ducks are plentiful. It is one of the best places for hunting ducks in the county. Nick Miller is in charge of the ranch, and he bids all welcome who goes there. Nick is a good rancher. He can beat the Indians raising squash.

Theodore Syphus of Panaca recently went up to Milford, Utah, where he got on a spree and passed some forged Bullionville Smelting Company checks. A dispatch was sent to Bullionville to learn if the checks were good. Word was sent to Milford that they were forged and worthless. Syphus was arrested, but upon his refunding the money paid on the checks he was released.

The following is taken from the Salt Lake Tribune: "Miss Phoebe Lee, of Tooele, Utah, toyed with the heart of a Bullionville, Nevada, miner last summer. He squandered some coin in purchasing her gewgaws, and when she finally promised to be his, he put $140 in her hands with which to set themselves up in life. She came to Salt Lake shortly afterwards, but instead of preparing to keep house, she went to receiving the attentions of a strange young man, in the hope of shaking off her Bullionville lover, for whom she had conceived a disgust. The lover put in an appearance on the scene a few days ago, and learning the situation of affairs, he went to the girl's father, upon whom he made a demand for the $140 and the presents given to Phoebe, on pain of seeing her prosecuted for obtaining money by false pretenses. The old man complied, and the money together with the presents were returned." We suppose when brother Ad. returns to Bullionville he will demand the return of the big brass breast-pin he made a present to me, but he will not get it. We will fight it out on this line if it takes all winter. You bet!

More men were placed to work at the Mendha mine Friday. Many of the idle men in Pioche are getting to work, and it is to be hoped that they will soon be all employed.

The Board of County Commissioners will meet next Monday. Present your bills to T. J. Osborne, Clerk of the Board, to-day.

A CERTAIN party intends trying to get out of paying their taxes. They claim that the statute of limitation release them from paying. They can afford to pay an attorney a fee, but she cannot afford to pay their just taxes. In this party's case, they will most likely have to pay their just taxes and an attorney's fee. There is one thing we will here state, some of the residents of this county, who are able to pay their taxes have been dealt with too assuagingly by the Commissioners. Those who are unable to settle their taxes at the required time, extend to them all the grace possible, but those who are able and will not pay their taxes, but are trying to evade their payment, they should not have any leniency shown them. There have been people, who were able to pay their taxes, owing to the kindness and leniency of county officials, who did not wish to injure them, except paying their taxes through the statute of limitation.

THE most foolish thing that a man or woman can do is to make an attempt to chase up an evil report. Slander has no visible starting point, no resting place; it begins from nothing and comes to nothing if allowed to die out through its own malignancy.

MISS MISSIE GRIFFIN and Hon. M. D. Foley of Eureka were to have been married, in San Francisco, on the morning of the 29th. The programme of the happy couple is to make an extensive tour through the Eastern and Southern States.

A COLD NIGHT.—Last Sunday night was the coldest that has visited this section of country for a long while. Teamsters report that it was so cold, that notwithstanding rolls of heavy blankets, they were unable to keep warm.

THANKSGIVING DAY passed very quietly in Pioche. Although there were very little praying indulged in, all who were able to eat good dinners. They thought it was best to eat a big dinner and postpone the praying till Christmas.

PARTIES in from Utah say that the borax claims up at Deep Creek are prospecting very well. Large works are expected to be erected in about a year, provided the claims continue as favorable as they now are.

ARTHUR LEE of Panaca brought a wagon load of turkeys in Tuesday. If it had not been for him Piochers would have had to eat Pahrnagat pork instead of turkey on Thanksgiving Day.

STAMPS are being placed in the mill at the lower end of town. Those wishing to have their ore worked by mill process now have a chance, and it will be worked on very liberal terms.

ON Wednesday evening a fellow went running around the streets calling all hands to come and drink to the health of a son and heir to the house of Eilers. Mother and child "way up."

J. B. CLINTON, who has had a severe attack of the Coeur d'Alene fever, left for those mines on Sunday. May he fill his pockets with gold nuggets, for he needs them in his family.

CARP.—Dr. G. R. Alexander has sent for a plant of carp to Hub Parker, Fish Commissioner. When the fish arrive here they will be placed in the lake near Eagle Valley.

WHILE here Mr. Grayson remarked that he had a gold mine in Calaveras county, California, and that it cost him to mine and mill the ore but one dollar a ton.

SUGAR.—J. Nesbitt & Bro. have received a carload of sugar during the week. All grades of sugar can be purchased at Nesbitt & Bro's.

THERE has been considerable talk in town as to the sale of the Meadow Valley property. We fear that it is all talk. The clapper of the wedding-bell is fairly trembling. It is just aching to give the bell several hard knocks.

THE feeling of the people in this section of the county is much better than it has been for some time.

THE District Court convenes at Beaver, Utah, on Monday next. So says the "Frisco Times."

THE mill leased by Jim Cronin at El Dorado Canyon has been started up and is now running.

ON Friday J. Eisenmann & Co. shipped a large amount of hardware to the Mendha mine.

THE Xmas toys are appearing. Wertheimer has some very nice ones.

THE Pahrnagat ranchers are hauling their grain into town and storing it.

THERE is but one short month left in which to do assessment work.

MANY of the ranchers were in town during the week.

THE water in the Colorado River is very low.

FALTERING FRISCO.

The "Southern Utah Times," says the "Beaver Record," prophesies a prospective population of 10,000 for that burg. The estimate is rather large; but the extraordinary richness and extent of the mines of that region would surely warrant the prosperous subsistence of a much larger population in the western end of the county than exist there at present. The editor of our Frisco column, sententiously asks: "Why this stagnation? Why this paralysis? Is it want of energy on the part of our citizen or is because a few of our leading mine owners discourage the coming among us of foreign capital and enterprise, etc." To which we might aptly reply that one of the main causes inquired for, lies in the conducting of mining enterprises on the system adopted by the coal mining and iron working companies of Pennsylvania, where the employees are compelled to purchase everything, even the coffin wherein to bury their dead, from the company for whom they are working. Such a system approaches too nearly to the peonage of South America to produce prosperity and success, for the poor man at least, in any "white man's country." Therein, Mr. Times lies the chief, but not however, the only trouble. Another reason is, that in the early days, prior to the discovery of the Horn Silver and some other prominent paying mines of to-day, the region of argentiferous hills comprised by Grampian and Star, was the victim of certain mining sharps, who, taking some possibly inferior mines, induced the investment of foreign capital therein, with the result of sundry lamentable failures; the big rusty quartz mill at Milford being a prominent monument of one such instance. The final result being a metaphorical "black eye" for the districts named, which all the recent rich discoveries have seemingly failed to remove. Frisco, Star and Bradshaw possesses mines that will continue paying investments for half a century to come; but something else is yet lacking.

The Grass Valley Union chronicles the following: Otto Anderson, a one-legged wood-chopper, went on the roof of his cabin at the Live Oak mine last Thursday to shovel off the snow, and in order to better retain his foot-hold on the roof, sharpened his wooden-leg to quite a fine point. Concluding his labors he re-entered his house, and his wife and himself soon retired, placing their four-months-old child at the foot of the couch to warm them. Anderson was somewhat restless during the night, and after having risen in the morning the screams of his horrified wife directed his attention to the fact that the child was impaled upon his wooden-leg. The infant was quite dead.

Two mice were recently placed in a case with a large rattlesnake at Portland, Oregon. The snake seemed indifferent to the presence of the mice, only shaking them off when they would run over him. At first the mice were timid and fearful, but as the days wore away they became hungry and bold, and commenced to devour the snake; they ate off his rattles and then gnawed a hole in his head, near the eye, which killed him. The snake was placed in alcohol and the mice killed.

"Tell me, papa, are you still growing?" said a charming little girl to her father, whose baldness was assuming alarming proportions. "No, my child; why?" "Because the top of your head has come through your hair."
